DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

2. Applicant is therefore requested to replace the word "means" in the abstract with either "device" or "unit".

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Matsumoto et al (patent no. 6868324).

As per claim 1, figure 1 of the Matsumoto et al reference clearly discloses the claimed motion control apparatus for a vehicle including a road data storing means (item 14), own vehicle position detecting means (item 13), vehicle speed detecting means (items 20FL, 20FR, 20RL and 20RR), corner radius arithmetically operating means for obtaining a radius of a corner existing on a route (item 15 and col. 10, lines 33-36), actual turning radius arithmetically operating means for determining the actual turning radius based on the vehicle speed and motion parameters, and radius difference calculating means (item 8, col. 2, lines 13-17 and col. 9, lines 62-66) and motion state control means for controlling the motion state of the own vehicle (item 7 or 12).

5. Claim 2 is currently considered allowable over the art of record.

6. The additional references are cited to show the related system. Applicant(s) should consider them carefully when responding to the current office action.
